

Quattrone Center 2016 Spring Symposium: Technology in Criminal Justice Reform

As the eyes of the nation increasingly focus on improving the criminal justice system increases, the possibilities and risks of emerging technologies are affecting all aspects of the administration of justice. Join the Quattrone Center for the Fair Administration of Justice at Penn Law as we host an interdisciplinary group of nationally recognized thought leaders in criminal justice, computer technology, and law on May 12-13 to discuss such questions as:

- How is technology is changing the administration of justice?
- What are areas of excitement and concern?
- What can criminal justice learn from other systems about deploying technology in ways that will improve our ability to prevent errors?
