Innocence in Pennsylvania: Confronting Disturbing Truths in Our Criminal Justice System

---

Time: 12:00pm

Location: Gittis 213, Kushner Classroom

Please join the Pennsylvania Innocence Project at Penn Law as we confront disturbing truths in our criminal justice system. We will be screening two student-created films about two of the most common practices that lead to wrongful convictions: eyewitness testimony and junk science. After the screening, Professor David Rudovsky and Attorney Joshua Snyder will discuss their first-hand experience working with these clients, and open a discussion about how we can improve our justice system so as to prevent future wrongful convictions. Lunch will be provided.
