APALSA Conference: Crescendo: Amplifying the Asian-American Voice

Time: 9:00am - 6:00pm

Location: The Fitts Auditorium

This year, we celebrate our 14th Annual Conference, Crescendo: Amplifying the Asian-American Voice. Our goal is to examine critical issues specific to the Asian Pacific American legal community that are rarely openly discussed. Our anticipated panel topics will range from mental health in the Asian Pacific American legal community to the glass ceiling for minorities in big law firms to the model minority myth. We hope that this conference will not only raise awareness on these topics, but also foster an ongoing dialogue on solutions and different avenues for progress.

This program has been approved for 3.0 substantive law credits for Pennsylvania lawyers. CLE credits may be available in other jurisdictions as well. Attendees seeking CLE credit must bring separate in the amount of $45.00 ($22.50 public interest) cash or check made payable to The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania.
