2020 Penn Law Entertainment and Sports Law Symposium

Time: All Day

Location: Silverman 245, Levy Conference Room

We are excited to welcome you to the University of Pennsylvania Law School for our sixth annual Sports Law Symposium! Below you will find event details and logistics to help ensure that your visit on February 21, 2020 is as seamless and enjoyable as possible.

The symposium will run from 10:30 am to 6:00pm. The program will begin promptly at 10:30 AM. Please allow a window to provide time to register, find your seat, access the Wi-Fi network, and take care of any other administrative or logistical needs.

Friday, February 21, 2020 will mark ESLS's 7th Annual Symposium. Our goal is to explore current cutting-edge topics in entertainment and sports law in a rapidly changing environment for both. The day will begin with opening remarks, followed by a panel discussing the legalization of sports betting, from the perspective of sports leagues, players unions, and betting platforms. The second panel will focus on the legal process involved in getting a major film production on air, touching on the legal challenges involved in both television and film. The final panel will present a forward-looking perspective on how sports viewership is likely to change in the coming years, as the transition from primarily cable-based viewership to streaming-based viewership continues. We hope the day's programming will prove especially engaging and practicable for participants.
