

DESCRIPTION

The 17th Annual Penn APALSA Conference, titled A Brave New World: Transforming the Lawyer, the Firm, the Industry, will address how the many advancements in technology and commerce will impact our future jobs, our potential employers, and the industry in which we hope to build our careers. Judge Stella Tsai will deliver the keynote speech, reflecting on the findings of the study, "A Portrait of Asian Americans in the Law."

Due to the generous support of the law school and the legal community, the conference is FREE for all attendees. Conference attendees who sign-in at the Registration Desk before the end of the first panel also receive FREE entry to the after-party at Rumor (located at 1500 Sansom St. Philadelphia, PA 19102). All others must pay a $25 entry fee for the after-party.

To RSVP for housing, Meet the Expert sessions, and firm dinners, please visit <http://bit.ly/2018apalsaconferencestudent>

SCHEDULE

Friday, January 12, 2018

6:00 PM - 8:00 PM - Pre-Conference Cocktail Reception at Strangelove's (216 South 11th Street)

Saturday, January 13, 2018

8:30 AM - 9:00 AM - Registration and Breakfast

9:00 AM - 9:15 AM - Opening Remarks

9:15 AM - 11:00 AM - Panel 1: Emerging Topics in Corporate Law Practice

- Speakers: Christina Halliday (Deputy General Counsel, Blue Apron), James Hu (Associate, Kirkland & Ellis), John Huh (Partner, DLA Piper), Dase Kim (Counsel, KKR & Co), and Shirley Lo (Counsel, Cleary Gottlieb)
- Moderator: Tom Lin (Professor, Temple)

11:00 AM - 11:30 AM - Coffee Break and Meet the Experts: AM

11:30 AM - 12:45 PM - Panel 2: Data Privacy, Security, and Legal Remedies

- Speakers: Margaret Hu (Professor, Washington & Lee), Andrea Matwyszyn (Professor, Northeastern), Neeraj Rajpal (Chief Technology Officer, K&L Gates), and Jenna Rode (Associate, Hunton & Williams)

University of Pennsylvania Asian Pacific American Law Students Association

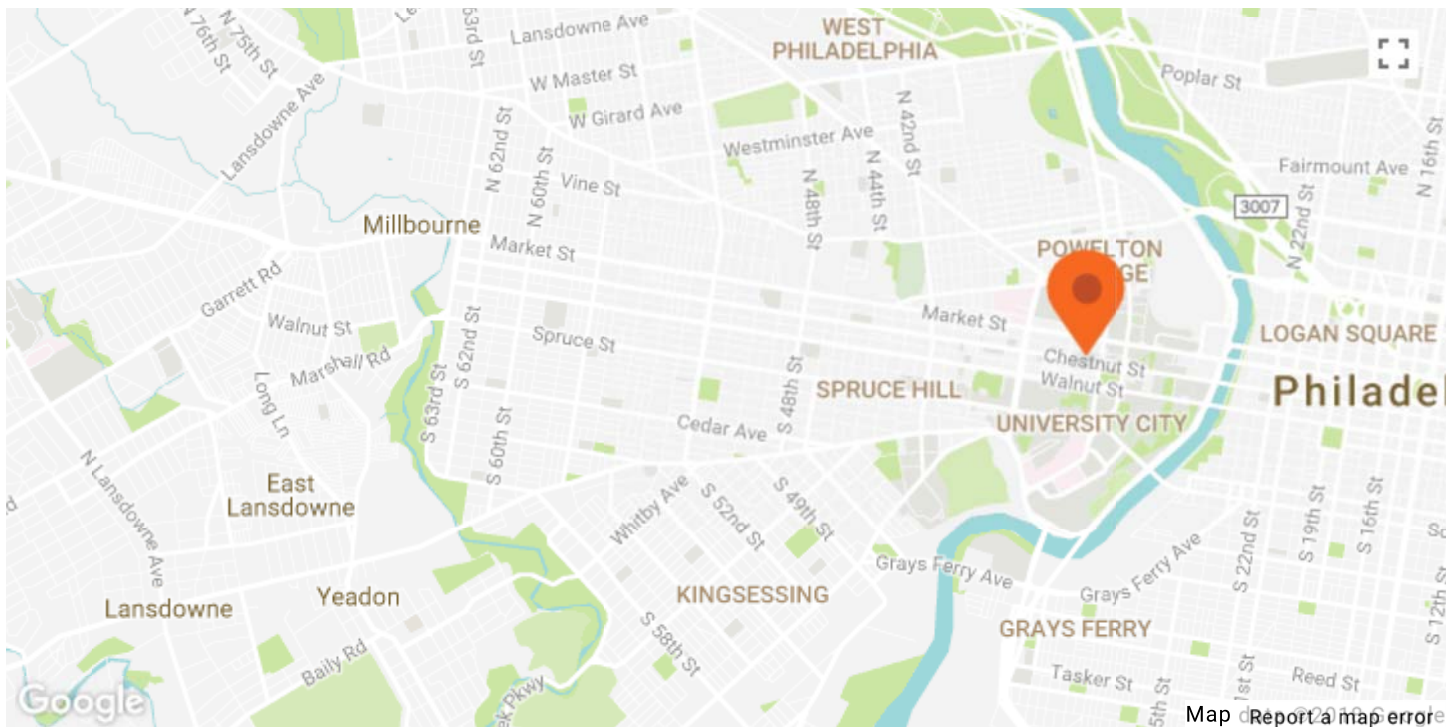

Organizer of 17th Annual Penn APALSA Conference

Penn APALSA is the largest student-run affinity organization at Penn Law. APALSA invests in the professional, academic, and personal development of its members and welcomes any and all students with an interest in Asian American issues.

PROFILE

CONTACT

17th Annual Penn APALSA Conference at University of Pennsylvania Law School
 3501 Sansom Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104

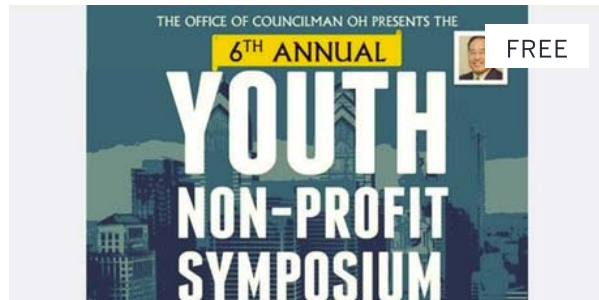

Other Events You May Like

SAT, JAN 13 10:00 AM
Fundamentals of Landlord-Tenant Law
 WeWork Northern Liberties, Philadelphia

#Networking

FRI, JAN 19 8:30 AM
6th Annual Youth Non-Profit Symposium Presented by Peirce College, Philadelphia

#Networking

FRI, MAR 9 8:
Gloucester (
University E
 Chamberlain S

#Class

Use Eventbrite

How it Works

Pricing

Event Blog