Participatory Defense: Reforming the Criminal Justice System

Time: 12:00pm

Location: Silverman 240A

Please join the National Lawyers Guild and the Youth Advocacy Project for a panel on participatory defense, a model in which families and communities can effectively participate in the criminal defense process. Panelists Keir Bradford-Grey (Defender Association of Philadelphia), Valerie Todd (Mothers In Charge), and Heather Lewis (Community Action Development Commission) will discuss the model, its impact on the criminal justice system, and more.

The program will occur on Wednesday, March 28, 2018 at 12:00 p.m., in Silverman 240A. Lunch will be served!
