Enter CTIC's technology poetry contest!

As a part of CTIC's 10th anniversary celebration (CTIC@10) on April 11, we are holding a poetry writing contest for all law students and staff and hope that you will participate. Guidelines for the contest are:

Write an original poem about "law and technology and however that inspires you" using any form of poetry you would like. Get creative! Submit it to Caroline Olson at cmolson@law.upenn.edu on or before Friday, April 6. Winners will be announced, and prizes awarded, at CTIC's 10th anniversary reception on April 11, though you do not need to be present to win. Submissions may be posted on the CTIC@10 events page and the CTIC website.
