

September 13, 2018

Legal History Consortium Workshop: Michael Lobban

Time: 12:00pm - 1:10pm

Location: Faculty Lounge

Please join us in welcoming Bok Visiting International Professor Michael Lobban to our first Legal History Workshop of the year.

Michael Lobban is Professor of Legal History at the London School of Economics. He is a prolific and widely respected historian of the eighteenth and nineteenth-century English common law, whose work has earned recognition and plaudits both in the United Kingdom and the United States. He has written two monographs (the first, The Common Law and English Jurisprudence, 1760-1850 (Oxford, 1991), and then White Man's Justice: South African Political Trials in the Black Consciousness Era (Oxford, 1996). He is also the author of volume 8 of the multivolume Treatise of Legal Philosophy and General Jurisprudence (his 2007 volume is titled A History of the Philosophy of Law in the Common Law World, 1600-1900), and the co-author of three volumes of the massive Oxford History of the Laws of England (which cover the period 1820 – 1914), published in 2010), and finally the co-editor of three major edited volumes, including a symposium issue of Comparative Studies in the Development of the Law of Torts in Europe (Cambridge, 2012), Legitimacy and Illegitimacy in Nineteenth Century Law, Literature, and History (Palgrave, 2010), and a symposium issue of Current Legal Issues (Oxford, 2003).

He will be presenting a paper titled Martial Law, the Privy Council and The Zulu Rebellion of 1906.

Contact Info:

Anna Gavin
agavin@law.upenn.edu