

November 1, 2018

Election Interference and the Impact of a Polarized Electorate

Time: 12:00pm - 1:00pm

Location: Gittis 214, Haaga Classroom

The National Security Society welcomes Michael Buchwald, a member of DOJ's National Security Division's Office of Law and Policy. Michael worked on the Attorney General's Cyber-Digital Task Force Report, which was released in July 2018. This report included NSD's work in addressing the threat posed by malign foreign influence operations and the ways in which the Department is working to address these threats in advance of the 2018 midterm elections. Michael will speak with students about his work on this report, and about how foreign interference in U.S. elections poses threats to democratic values.

Contact Info:

Katherine Joseph, kljoseph@pennlaw.upenn.edu

Feedback