

February 7, 2019

Reporting on National Security: What is the Media's Role?

Time: 4:30pm

Location: 3501 Sansom St, Philadelphia, PA 19104

4:30 – 5:50 p.m. Panel: Managing the Tension Between National Security and Freedom of the Press

David McCraw, Deputy General Counsel of the New York Times Company
Shawn Turner, Director of Communication at the Center for a New American Security, Former Deputy White House Press Secretary for National Security
Nathan Siegel, Partner, Davis Wright Tremaine LLP

Moderated by Claire Finkelstein, Algernon Biddle Professor of Law and Professor of Philosophy; Director, Center for Ethics and the Rule of Law

6:00-7:00 p.m. Keynote: Journalists Taken Hostage Abroad

David G. Bradley is chairman and owner of Atlantic Media, whose brands include the Atlantic, National Journal Group, and Government Executive Media Group. He graduated from Swarthmore College, holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, and a JD from Georgetown University. He is the recipient of Lifetime Achievement Awards from Harvard Business School and the Fulbright Association.

7:00 – 8:00 p.m. Reception

Refreshments provided by Penn Law's Career Planning & Professionalism Office

Symposium event

Contact Info:

Katherine Joseph, kljoseph@pennlaw.upenn.edu

Feedback