The 38th Annual Norman Glickman Lecture in Urban Studies will be a virtual discussion of Eric C. Schneider's posthumously published book The Ecology of Philadelphia (Penn Press 2021).

Moderated by Howard Gillette Jr., Professor Emeritus of History at Rutgers University, who brought Eric's book to publication, this panel discussion will engage the book and offer perspectives on the lessons it offers, both for understanding and ameliorating the current surge in homicides in Philadelphia, and in US cities more generally.
