Below is a description of the event held at the National Press Club on February 25, 2015.

The Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Study of the Central Intelligence Agency's

Detention and Interrogation Program (SSCI Report) has reignited debate about the ethics and legality of Enhanced Interrogation Techniques. The Center for Ethics and the Rule of Law (CERL), of the University of Pennsylvania, in collaboration with Penn's new Perry World House, will host a public panel in Washington, DC on February 25, 2015, discussing the Report's findings. The panel will address the moral and legal status of harsh interrogation methods, the rights of detainees, as well as the role of international law in regulating interrogation practices. It will also discuss the role of professionals engaged with national security, as well as the controversy of the SSCI Report itself.

Panelists:

- John D. Alfenburg, Jr. Major General (Ret), USA, Of Counsel Greenberg Traurig, LLP
- Juan E. Mendez, UN Special Rapporteur on Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman and Degrading Treatment or Punishment
- Alberto J. Mora, Former General Counsel to the Department of the Navy and a Senior Fellow at the Kennedy School of Government
- Stephen N. Xenakis, Brigadier General (Ret), USA, CERL Executive Board Member

Moderator:

- Claire Finkelstein, Algernon Biddle Professor of Law and Professor of Philosophy, CERL Director
